Hello Josh -

The Sammamish Comment will be publishing a story about your candidacy shortly.

The story details discrepancies between your description of your 2009 arrest and the details in the police report from that time (attached here for your information).

The story also describes a web page evidence of your 2010 connection to Alipac, an anti immigration group, and how recently that web page was edited to remove your name from it.

If you'd like your comments included in the story, please get back to me before Friday 2pm.

Your comments may be summarized for length and readability - in which case, a link to the original will be provided in the story.

Thank you

Miki Mullor
